Statement issued by Spokesperson of Western Health and Social Care Trust

A B&B arrangement with the aim of accommodating families who had to travel long distances to the Omagh day case unit was piloted from January – April 2007. The Western Health and Social Care Trust has evaluated this and has agreed with the ENT team to discontinue this provision.

The Western Health and Social Care Trust wishes to reassure any member of the public who needs inpatient care will be accommodated in the appropriate hospital.

The ENT service at the Tyrone County Hospital will continue to develop as an integral part of the new Western Health and Social Care Trust's ENT provision.
